Acknowledgements

This Handbook brings together years of collective effort and work so as to develop the Practice Teaching and Mentoring Programmes. Many people have contributed to the success of these programmes kindly giving up their time to discuss ideas and supporting any efforts related to the development of the programme and its related research.

I am grateful to Prof. Bessie Dendrinou, my mentor, my colleague and my dear friend who has placed her trust in me and has supported all my efforts to develop and implement the Mentor programme. Without her invaluable advice, encouragement and practical help this Handbook would not have been written.

I am indebted to Dr Mary Drossou, colleague and friend, who has served as programme coordinator and taught the Practice Teaching courses very successfully. For many years she has tirelessly worked for the courses and has supported all my efforts to further develop the Mentoring Programme. I appreciate her advice and her help in conducting research related to student teacher and mentors' beliefs and in evaluating the Mentor Programme.

A very special thanks to Prof. Mary Sifianou, the Scientific Coordinator of the Practice Teaching Project, who accepted this responsibility in addition to her many other responsibilities and helped us by giving her expert advice and support throughout all stages of the project.

Warm thanks also to our Associate, Ms Aikaterini Zouganelli, for her significant contribution to the training events organized for our Mentor teachers.

Finally, many thanks are due to our Mentor teachers who have, on a voluntary basis, cooperated with our Faculty for many years accepting our student-teachers in their classrooms and facilitating their professional development as EFL teachers. Their enthusiasm and support for the Mentor Training programme was a source of motivation for the development of this Handbook.
